I am directed by the Minister for Education to enclose for your information, the timetable of the Anglo-Irish History Course which is being organised jointly by this Department and the British Department of Education & Science.

Some 50 teachers from England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland together with 50 Irish teachers will participate. The main purpose of the course is to examine the teaching of History at Second level in both countries, with special reference to bias and prejudice and will include a critical analysis of textbooks.

If any of your officers wish to visit the course, they would be most welcome.
