- D. recognising that the strife in Northern Ireland with its enormous cost in terms of loss of lives and injury in Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland and Great Britain is the greatest single source of violence in the European Community today,

- G. recalling the adoption by the European Parliament of the resolution attached to the HAAGERUP-report (doc. 1-1526/83) on Northern Ireland on March 29th 1984 which called on the British and Irish Governments to take a joint initiative
1. welcomes the agreement signed by the two Governments and hopes for its full and early implementation,
  2. calls for an immediate end to violence and terrorism from whatever source,
  3. believes that the Agreement offers a unique opportunity to make progress towards peace and reconciliation in Ireland by recognising the validity of both traditions in Northern Ireland,
  4. believes that the Agreement will have all the greater chance of success if it is underpinned by a programme of economic development which would reduce unemployment and poverty, which are both a consequence of, and a contributing factor to, the violence and therefore reaffirms its solemn declaration contained in its resolution of 29 March 1984, of its readiness to assume a greater responsibility to the economic and social development of Northern Ireland, to the limit of the financial capacity and legal obligation of the European Community,
  5. calls upon the competent Community bodies to examine the ways and means by which the European Community can give practical expression to that solemn declaration,
  6. calls also upon member states of the European Community to consider ways and means of supporting the British/Irish Agreement,
  7. instructs its President to forward this resolution the the Commission, the Council and the Ministers meeting in Political Cooperation.
