

Pick the Score for your chance to win £2,500 and some super prizes

Commission from 0.15%

Apply for a CFD account now >>

News

- Jobs
- Cars
- Homes
- Classified (new)
- Services

Local & National

- World
- Politics
- Property
- Health
- Education
- Business
- Environment
- Technology
- Video
- Family Notices
- Crime Map
- Sunday Life
- The CT

facing a fresh charge of murdering a rival paramilitary chief, was struck out at the High Court in Belfast.

His decision not to proceed with the case came just days before it was due to be heard and has been seen as a significant victory for Press freedom. Haddock, an alleged former UVF leader, is close to completing a 10-year jail sentence for attacking a nightclub doorman in 2002.

Amid claims that he is under imminent death threat, the north Belfast man wanted to stop any publication of a planned name change and address after he leaves prison. But his lawyers confirmed yesterday that the action had been dropped. Mr Justice Deeny gave a judgment on consent for the media organisations who contested Haddock's

Bookmark & Share

What are these?

application.

Also in this section

- Teen raped in alley
- Robbery woman pretended she was pregnant
- Absent fathers owe £3.6m child support
- Primary heads 'at breaking point'
- Robert Hamill murder probe pledge to find the truth

In Pictures: All Our Yesterdays

In Pictures: Northern Ireland Nightlife

MAKE YOUR STAY
STRETCH
FURTHER THIS WINTER
WITH A MARRIOTT
CHEQUE WORTH UP TO £50
TO SPEND ON ANYTHING, ANYWHERE

Marriott

Northern Ireland Troubles Gallery

John Lennon and Yoko Ono

CLICK
HERE TO WATCH

FINDING HAPPINESS

